This April, we're celebrating National Financial Literacy Month by offering resources to help you spring forward in your financial journey. It's the perfect opportunity to establish fresh financial habits and grow your financial knowledge.

Whether you are just starting your work career, approaching or living in retirement, there are always ways to improve your financial literacy. National Financial Literacy Month is all about helping you improve your financial know-how.

The following are tips for growing your financial literacy at any age.

College students and early career

- Plant the seeds of savings in your budget
- Cultivate an emergency fund that can cover 6 months of living expenses
- Begin saving for retirement early, and nurture your savings with small increases each year

Midcareer

- Trim your budget as needed to stay on track for your goals
- Evaluate your savings options to determine whether they're still appropriate for you
- Regularly review your financial goals and track your progress

Nearing retirement

- Start planning a retirement budget that accounts for changes in income and expenses
- Grow an emergency savings fund that can cover 1 to 2 years of expenses
- Use My Income & Retirement PlannerSM to help you plan a withdrawal strategy
- Work with your Retirement Specialist to help your retirement plans blossom at no additional charge

Retirees

- Maintain but adjust your budget as needed
- Consider additional income sources, especially in the early retirement years
- Revise your withdrawal strategy as your financial needs change
- Keep tabs on legislative changes that may affect you
- Complete estate planning to ensure your assets are distributed according to your wishes

These are just a few tips that workers and retirees found helpful. We can help you put together a financial literacy plan that works for you and your family.

Plant the seeds for a prosperous financial future.

Disclosures

Fee disclosures

The Standardized illustration represents performance based on a $10,000 hypothetical investment, and reflects the deduction of the following fees:

Gross expense ratios represent the fund's total operating expenses expressed as a percentage of the assets held in the fund. For more information about gross expense ratios, read the fund's prospectus.

Some mutual funds may impose a short term trade fee. Some funds may be subject to a trade restriction policy. Please read the underlying prospectus carefully.

Footnotes

a) These funds are not open to new participants.

b) These funds are designed to provide diversification and asset allocation across several types of investments and asset classes, primarily by investing in underlying funds. Therefore, in addition to the fund's expenses, you are indirectly paying a proportionate share of the applicable fees and expenses of the underlying funds.

Risk disclosures

Government Money Market Funds: The Fund is not insured or guaranteed by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation or any other government agency. The Fund is open to all investors. Although the Fund seeks to preserve the value of the investment at $1.00 per share, it cannot guarantee it will do so. You could lose money by investing in the Fund. The Fund may impose a fee upon sale of shares or temporarily suspend the ability to sell shares if the Fund's liquidity falls below required minimums because of market conditions or other factors. The Fund's sponsor has no legal obligation to provide financial support to the Fund, and you should not expect that the sponsor will provide financial support to the Fund at any time. The Fund may invest in shares of other government money market mutual funds, including those advised by the Fund's subadviser, to provide additional liquidity or to achieve higher yields. Please refer to the most recent prospectus for a more detailed description of the Fund's principal risks.

International/emerging markets funds: Funds that invest in international stocks face risks that funds investing only in U.S. stocks do not. Currency fluctuation, political risk, differences in accounting standards and the limited availability of information may make these funds less stable.

Small company funds: Small and emerging companies may have less liquidity than larger, established companies. Therefore, funds investing in stocks of small or emerging companies may face greater price volatility and risk.

High-yield bond funds: Funds that invest in high-yield securities may have more credit risk and changes in price than funds that invest in higher-quality securities.

Non-diversified funds: Funds that invest in a single industry or small number of securities may be more volatile than those that invest more broadly.

Government bond funds: These funds invest mainly in securities of the U.S. government and its agencies; however, these entities do not guarantee the value of the funds.

Real estate funds: Funds that invest mainly in real estate are sensitive to economic and business cycles, changing demographic patterns and government actions.

Important disclosures

"Inception Date" is the date the fund was established. The "Since Inception" column contains performance for the funds if the Inception Date was before the time period indicated.

Performance numbers in the "3 Month" column are not annualized returns and represent the total percentage change in share value for the time period indicated.
